

y 6, 1910

to execute in spite of eals. We ned same, as nent it must ld we make we feel it
really sorry Ve will en-ne way for this matter.
now ready,
om Brother

for 1910 in re is not so rstood as to Our aim is a source of
at its list of efficiently to s well as a

we live, we t appear at
in a more
n, financially

ve have as-we feel "WE
and its rise
us: yet we urch at any
he M. B. C. erefore deem
fall for the
t. It is, and asking. As e best of our
ke it a suc-
ve it and its
t to continue s there are in the M. B. are probably
Union Gospel

lieve that the eel more in-
ould deem it
of the "Ban-nds of those ook after the
' and act ac-

ntiment—We er" for any privilege of deem it only

January 6, 1910

GOSPEL BANNER

Home Missionary Workers

Home Missionary, Vi Anna Longenecker, of the Indiana and Ohio Conference (relative to photo and experience) writes, "It is with a feeling of modesty and reserve that I submit the same, but since I am

Vi Anna Longenecker, Home Missionary (Ind. and Ohio Conference).

anxious for the biography and photo of our sister workers, I should not withhold mine."

We greatly appreciate the spirit of reserve in our sister and also the unselfishness in considering her co-workers. If each missionary is blessed as much in reading the different experiences, as the publishers have already been in preparing them for press, all will be well paid. We give our sister's biography in her own words:

"I was converted in a revival which my father held on his charge at Latrobe, Pa., December 10, 1885. Was baptized and united with the church six months later. Entered the city mission work in the fall of 1900, spending the next two years in the Bible school in connection with mission work in Elkhart, Ind. Later gave my time to the work in the following places:

New Carlisle, O.; Mishawaka, Ind.; So. Bend, Ind.; Cincinnati, O.; am now in Bethel Mission, Springfield, O."

Home Missionary, Arnetta Erb, of the Michigan Conference, a Mennonite of Mennonite stock, early in life found herself among the new settlers near the town now known as Brown City, Mich. She place that is called Brown City was started. Before this, there were no churches there and but few Mennonite families. Preaching services were held at their different homes every two weeks and prayer meetings every week. They had no regular pastor, but God met with them.

As far back as I can remember I was taken to the meetings, and was always under Christian influence. My grandfather, J. S. McNally, was a Mennonite minister and both of my parents were Mennonites.

When I was about nine years old, while under the preaching of my grandfather, God began to talk to my heart, but I thought I was too young. Many times I would go to the meetings thinking I would get saved but still I held back. How I have regretted since, that I did not yield then.

About 1885, Elder B. Kreutziger was sent to Brown City by the Canada Conference, and under his direction a church was built and a Sabbath school started in which my parents took an active part.

When I was thirteen, God saw fit to take my dear mother from me. Before she died, she called me to her bedside and told me to always go to Sunday school and be a good girl and meet her in Heaven. Those words followed me and God continued to strive with me until at the age of sixteen, in special meetings held by S. S. Stauffer, I gave myself to Jesus. What joy I felt when I knew my sins were all under the blood to be remembered against me no more. I was then baptized and united with the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church.

I regret to say I wandered away from God, but never could find anything in the world to satisfy my soul. How many opportunities I lost of service for Jesus, because I was out of touch with Him; and how I regret the time lost, that might have been spent in service for Him. During that time I learned some bitter lessons. I became tired of this way of living and felt that I wanted Jesus more than anything else. Then I settled it forever that I would obey Him. In His great love and

Later,
and bega
It was a
I got to
was clea
plete, y
the witi
ing.
I conti
I was si

E. F. F.
member

into my felt Him
new crea
This n
I am gl
This way
I belie
That l
The as
Thru t
It gavo
a real wi
In 190
sion wor
was at Miller. of the L
me grace
tend to pleased blessed
His will I'll follo

Home
sion Hel (Pennsyl verted in city miss 1907, he ety wher

for 1910 in
is not so understood as to Our aim is a source of
its list of efficiently to
s well as a

we live, we
it appear at
in a more
n, financially

we have as-we feel "WR
and its rise
r us; yet we urch at any
the M. B. C. erefore deem
fall for the
t. It is, and asking. As
e best of our
like it a suc-
ve it and its
t to continue
is there are in the M. B.
are probably
Union Gospel

ieve that the eel more in-
ould deem it
of the "Ban-
ands of those look after the
" and act ac-

entiment—We ner" for any e privilege of
deem it only
g Jesus as we s privilege we ceptable.

a to complain.
pectations and
of encourage-first year than e a few une year from hen we come
was nothing
back of it all.
ion, we found
r" a great joy
year with far ered the last ease God and a, we will be

Vi Anna Longenecker, Home Missionary (Ind. and Ohio Conference).

anxious for the biography and photo of our sister workers, I should not withhold mine."

We greatly appreciate the spirit of reserve in our sister and also the unselfishness in considering her co-workers. If each missionary is blessed as much in reading the different experiences, as the publishers have already been in preparing them for press, all will be well paid. We give our sister's biography in her own words:

"I was converted in a revival which my father held on his charge at Latrobe, Pa., December 10, 1885. Was baptized and united with the church six months later.
Entered the city mission work in the fall of 1900, spending the next two years in the Bible school in connection with mission work in Elkhart, Ind. Later gave my time to the work in the following places:

New Carlisle, O.; Mishawaka, Ind.; So.
Bend, Ind.; Cincinnati, O.; am now in Bethel Mission, Springfield, O."

Home Missionary, Arnetta Erb, of the Michigan Conference, a Mennonite of Mennonite stock, early in life found herself among the new settlers near the town now known as Brown City, Mich. She was convicted early in life, converted at the age of 16 years and, had a way been open like in later years, we sincerely believe she would have gone right on in Christian life, but for lack of zeal, opportunity, or willingness to advance, she fell back, only to be again rescued after bitter experiences—a wiser girl and better equipped for the race since she sought and found the second experience. She has now found and entered her calling. She gives her experience as follows:

"I was born in Blenem, Ont. Five years later my parents moved to Mich. We arrived at Emily City, that being the nearest station. From there we drove to Deanville where we stayed over night. The next morning we started with our ox team and wagon for our new home a mile north of Brown City, which at that time was all swamp. Two years later the railroad went thru about a mile from our home and the

When I was about nine years old, while under the preaching of my grandfather, God began to talk to my heart, but I tho't I was too young. Many times I would go to the meetings thinking I would get saved but still I held back. How I have regretted since, that I did not yield then.

About 1885, Elder B. Kreutziger was sent to Brown City by the Canada Conference, and under his direction a church was built and a Sabbath school started in which my parents took an active part.

When I was thirteen, God saw fit to take my dear mother from me. Before she died, she called me to her bedside and told me to always go to Sunday school and be a good girl and meet her in Heaven. Those words followed me and God continued to strive with me until at the age of sixteen, in special meetings held by S. S. Stauffer, I gave myself to Jesus. What joy I felt when I knew my sins were all under the blood to be remembered against me no more. I was then baptized and united with the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church.

I regret to say I wandered away from God, but never could find anything in the world to satisfy my soul. How many opportunities I lost of service for Jesus, because I was out of touch with Him; and how I regret the time lost, that might have been spent in service for Him. During that time I learned some bitter lessons.
I became tired of this way of living and felt that I wanted Jesus more than anything else. Then I settled it forever that I would obey Him. In His great love and Arnetta Erb, Home Missionary (Michigan Conference).

mercy He accepted me as His child again and since then I have found in Him all I need.

E. F. I
member

into my felt Him
new crea-

This r
I am gl
This wa

I belie
That
The a

Thru
It gav
a real w

In 190
sion wor
was at Miller, I

of the L
me grac tend to

pleased
blessed
His will

I'll follo

Home sion He (Pennsy

verted in ety miss

1907, he ety wher

His own

"I gav
in the C
York, P

sion. I c
(Apr. 26

kin. Pa. nonite I

stationed Pa., and am labor

Lord ha derfully

desire to used al
"Chris
of inbre
ceasing
keep it
it. It v fear, sel
in denon

January 6, 1910

GOSPEL BANNER

Home Missionary Workers

Home Missionary, Vi Anna Longenecker, of the Indiana and Ohio Conference (relative to photo and experience) writes, "It is with a feeling of modesty and reserve that I submit the same, but since I am

Vi Anna Longenecker, Home Missionary (Ind. and Ohio Conference).

anxious for the biography and photo of our sister workers, I should not withhold mine."

We greatly appreciate the spirit of reserve in our sister and also the unselfishness in considering her co-workers. If each missionary is blessed as much in reading the different experiences, as the publishers have already been in preparing them for press, all will be well paid. We give our sister's biography in her own words:

"I was converted in a revival which my father held on his charge at Latrobe, Pa., December 10, 1885. Was baptized and united with the church six months later. Entered the city mission work in the fall of 1900, spending the next two years in the Bible school in connection with mission work in Elkhart, Ind. Later gave my time to the work in the following places:

New Carlisle, O.; Mishawaka, Ind.; So. Bend, Ind.; Cincinnati, O.; am now in Bethel Mission, Springfield, O."

Home Missionary, Arnetta Erb, of the Michigan Conference, a Mennonite of Mennonite stock, early in life found herself among the new settlers near the town now known as Brown City, Mich. She place that is called Brown City was started. Before this, there were no churches there and but few Mennonite families. Preaching services were held at their different homes every two weeks and prayer meetings every week. They had no regular pastor, but God met with them.

As far back as I can remember, I was taken to the meetings, and was always under Christian influence. My grandfather, J. S. McNally, was a Mennonite minister and both of my parents were Mennonites.

When I was about nine years old, while under the preaching of my grandfather, God began to talk to my heart, but I thought I was too young. Many times I would go to the meetings thinking I would get saved but still I held back. How I have regretted since, that I did not yield then.

About 1885, Elder B. Kreutziger was sent to Brown City by the Canada Conference, and under his direction a church was built and a Sabbath school started in which my parents took an active part.

When I was thirteen, God saw fit to take my dear mother from me. Before she died, she called me to her bedside and told me to always go to Sunday school and be a good girl and meet her in Heaven. Those words followed me and God continued to strive with me until at the age of sixteen, in special meetings held by S. S. Stauffer, I gave myself to Jesus. What joy I felt when I knew my sins were all under the blood to be remembered against me no more. I was then baptized and united with the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church.

I regret to say I wandered away from God, but never could find anything in the world to satisfy my soul. How many opportunities I lost of service for Jesus, because I was out of touch with Him; and how I regret the time lost, that might have been spent in service for Him. During that time I learned some bitter lessons. I became tired of this way of living and felt that I wanted Jesus more than anything else. Then I settled it forever that I would obey Him. In His great love and Later, I felt the need of and began seeking with me. It was a real heart-searching. I got to the place where I was clean and my conscience was complete, yet I did not feel saved until the witness of the Spirit came.

I continued to wait upon Him. I was sitting sewing the into my heart and took fullness of the Spirit. I felt Him all thru my being and was a new creature in Christ.

E. F. RICHARD, Home Missionary member of the Gospel Herald.

This morning He still abides in me. I am glad I ever prayed. This way satisfies me.

I believe in a heartfelt repentance. That brings joy to the heart. The assurance of sins are forgiven. Thru the blood they are

It gave me new zeal for a real willingness to obey Him.

In 1901, God called me to mission work. My first experience was at Port Huron with Mr. Miller. I have always enjoyed the Lord. I find that I am full of grace and courage as I tend to keep where I feel pleased with me. There is no blessing to me than to be in His will. My heart says, "I'll follow."

Home Missionary, E. F. Richard, is a member of the Gospel Herald in the Pennsylvania Conference. He was converted in 1906 in the Gospel Herald mission at York, Pa. In 1907, he entered the Gospel Herald mission at York, Pa. where he has been laboring.

Vi Anna Longenecker, Home Missionary (Ind. and Ohio Conference).

anxious for the biography and photo of our sister workers, I should not withhold mine."

We greatly appreciate the spirit of reserve in our sister and also the unselfishness in considering her co-workers. If each missionary is blessed as much in reading the different experiences, as the publishers have already been in preparing them for press, all will be well paid. We give our sister's biography in her own words:

"I was converted in a revival which my father held on his charge at Latrobe, Pa., December 10, 1885. Was baptized and united with the church six months later. Entered the city mission work in the fall of 1900, spending the next two years in the Bible school in connection with mission work in Elkhart, Ind. Later gave my time to the work in the following places:

New Carlisle, O.; Mishawaka, Ind.; So. Bend, Ind.; Cincinnati, O.; am now in Bethel Mission, Springfield, O."

Home Missionary, Arnetta Erb, of the Michigan Conference, a Mennonite of Mennonite stock, early in life found herself among the new settlers near the town now known as Brown City, Mich. She was convicted early in life, converted at the age of 16 years and, had a way been open like in later years, we sincerely believe she would have gone right on in Christian life, but for lack of zeal, opportunity, or willingness to advance, she fell back, only to be again rescued after bitter experiences—a wiser girl and better equipped for the race since she sought and found the second experience. She has now found and entered her calling. She gives her experience as follows:

"I was born in Blenem, Ont. Five years later my parents moved to Mich. We arrived at Emily City, that being the nearest station. From there we drove to Deanville where we stayed over night. The next morning we started with our ox team and wagon for our new home a mile north of Brown City, which at that time was all swamp. Two years later the railroad went thru about a mile from our home and the

when I was about nine years old, while under the preaching of my grandfather. God began to talk to my heart, but I thought I was too young. Many times I would go to the meetings thinking I would get saved but still I held back. How I have regretted since, that I did not yield then.

About 1885, Elder B. Kreutziger was sent to Brown City by the Canada Conference, and under his direction a church was built and a Sabbath school started in which my parents took an active part.

When I was thirteen, God saw fit to take my dear mother from me. Before she died, she called me to her bedside and told me to always go to Sunday school and be a good girl and meet her in Heaven. Those words followed me and God continued to strive with me until at the age of sixteen, in special meetings held by S. S. Stauffer, I gave myself to Jesus. What joy I felt when I knew my sins were all under the blood to be remembered against me no more. I was then baptized and united with the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church.

I regret to say I wandered away from God, but never could find anything in the world to satisfy my soul. How many opportunities I lost of service for Jesus, because I was out of touch with Him; and how I regret the time lost, that might have been spent in service for Him. During that time I learned some bitter lessons. I became tired of this way of living and felt that I wanted Jesus more than anything else. Then I settled it forever that I would obey Him. In His great love and mercy He accepted me as His child again and since then I have found in Him all I need.

Arnetta Erb, Home Missionary (Michigan Conference).

E. F. RICHARD, Home member of the Gospel Herald.

into my heart and took full possession. I felt Him all thru my being as a new creature in Christ.

This morning He still abides in me. I am glad I ever prayed for this way satisfies me.

I believe in a heartfelt repentance that brings joy to the heart. The assurance of sins forgiven. Thru the blood they are forgiven.

It gave me new zeal for a real willingness to obey Him.

In 1901, God called me to mission work. My first experience was at Port Huron with Elder Miller. I have always enjoyed the Lord. I find that He gives me grace and courage as I tend to keep where I find His pleasure with me. There is nothing blessed to me than to be able to do His will. My heart says "I'll follow."

Home Missionary, E. F. Richard, is a member of the Gospel Herald in the Pennsylvania Conference. He was converted in 1906 in the Gospel Herald mission at York, Pa. In 1907, he entered the Gospel Herald mission where he has been laboring. His own testimony:

"I gave my heart to God in the Gospel Worker Society at York, Pa. After a short time, I entered the Gospel Herald mission (Apr. 26, 1907), was baptized. Soon afterward I was stationed at Scranton, Pa., and Washington, N. C. I am laboring at East Stroudsburg, Pa. The Lord has been very good to me, wonderfully healed my body and I desire to follow close by His side alone to His honor."

"Christian people who have been freed of inbred sin, will have no more of it. They will keep it down or they will let it go. It will be manifested in their lives. It will be manifested in their fear, selfishness, envy, jealousy, in denominational jealousy